Message Activity History

ZixArchive Plus offers comprehensive message activity tracking for all archive activities including message exports, views, comments, escalations, legal holds and status changes. Organizations gain full visibility into which users are doing what and when with intuitive user identification and timestamping. This feature provides peace of mind that users are not abusing their archive access privileges, while simultaneously giving HR, compliance, legal, and IT managers a method of checking their analysts' activity.

Glossary Scanning

This feature provides the ability to create and edit a list of keywords and phrases that ZixArchive Plus will look for when every message is indexed. Messages that contain any of these keywords and phrases will be flagged. Users can search for flagged data as part of reactive searches. Additionally, flagged data can be used as a search parameter for fast data culling and sharing. This feature is great for enhancing the supervisory compliance work associated with SEC and FINRA regulated companies. This also works nicely for HR investigations and communications monitoring.

Advanced eDiscovery

ZixArchive Plus offers advanced eDiscovery capabilities that augment the eDiscovery parameters available in ZixArchive Essentials. Users can cull data by message status, who viewed the message, who reviewed the message, message escalation, and more. These features support the eDiscovery activities of Legal and IT teams during early case assessment. Advanced eDiscovery also empowers the compliance teams of companies with FINRA or SEC review requirements.

Message Classification

Message classification is a core feature of ZixArchive Plus. Legal teams can use the classification feature to apply a status to messages during early case assessment. HR teams can use message classification to identify and mark content in response to an HR investigation, and compliance teams can use this feature to identify non-compliant data during an audit or regularly scheduled review. In each of the aforementioned use cases, the status tags applied to each message can be utilized to cull and share relevant data.

Unified Archiving Data Support

In addition to email archiving, ZixArchive Plus provides unified archiving support for many other electronic communication tools including popular social media platforms, instant messaging (IM) services, and collaboration tools. Data from these sources is indexed, stored and governed by retention policies. Zix's eDiscovery, legal holds, and SimplyShare technology capabilities are also available for use.
